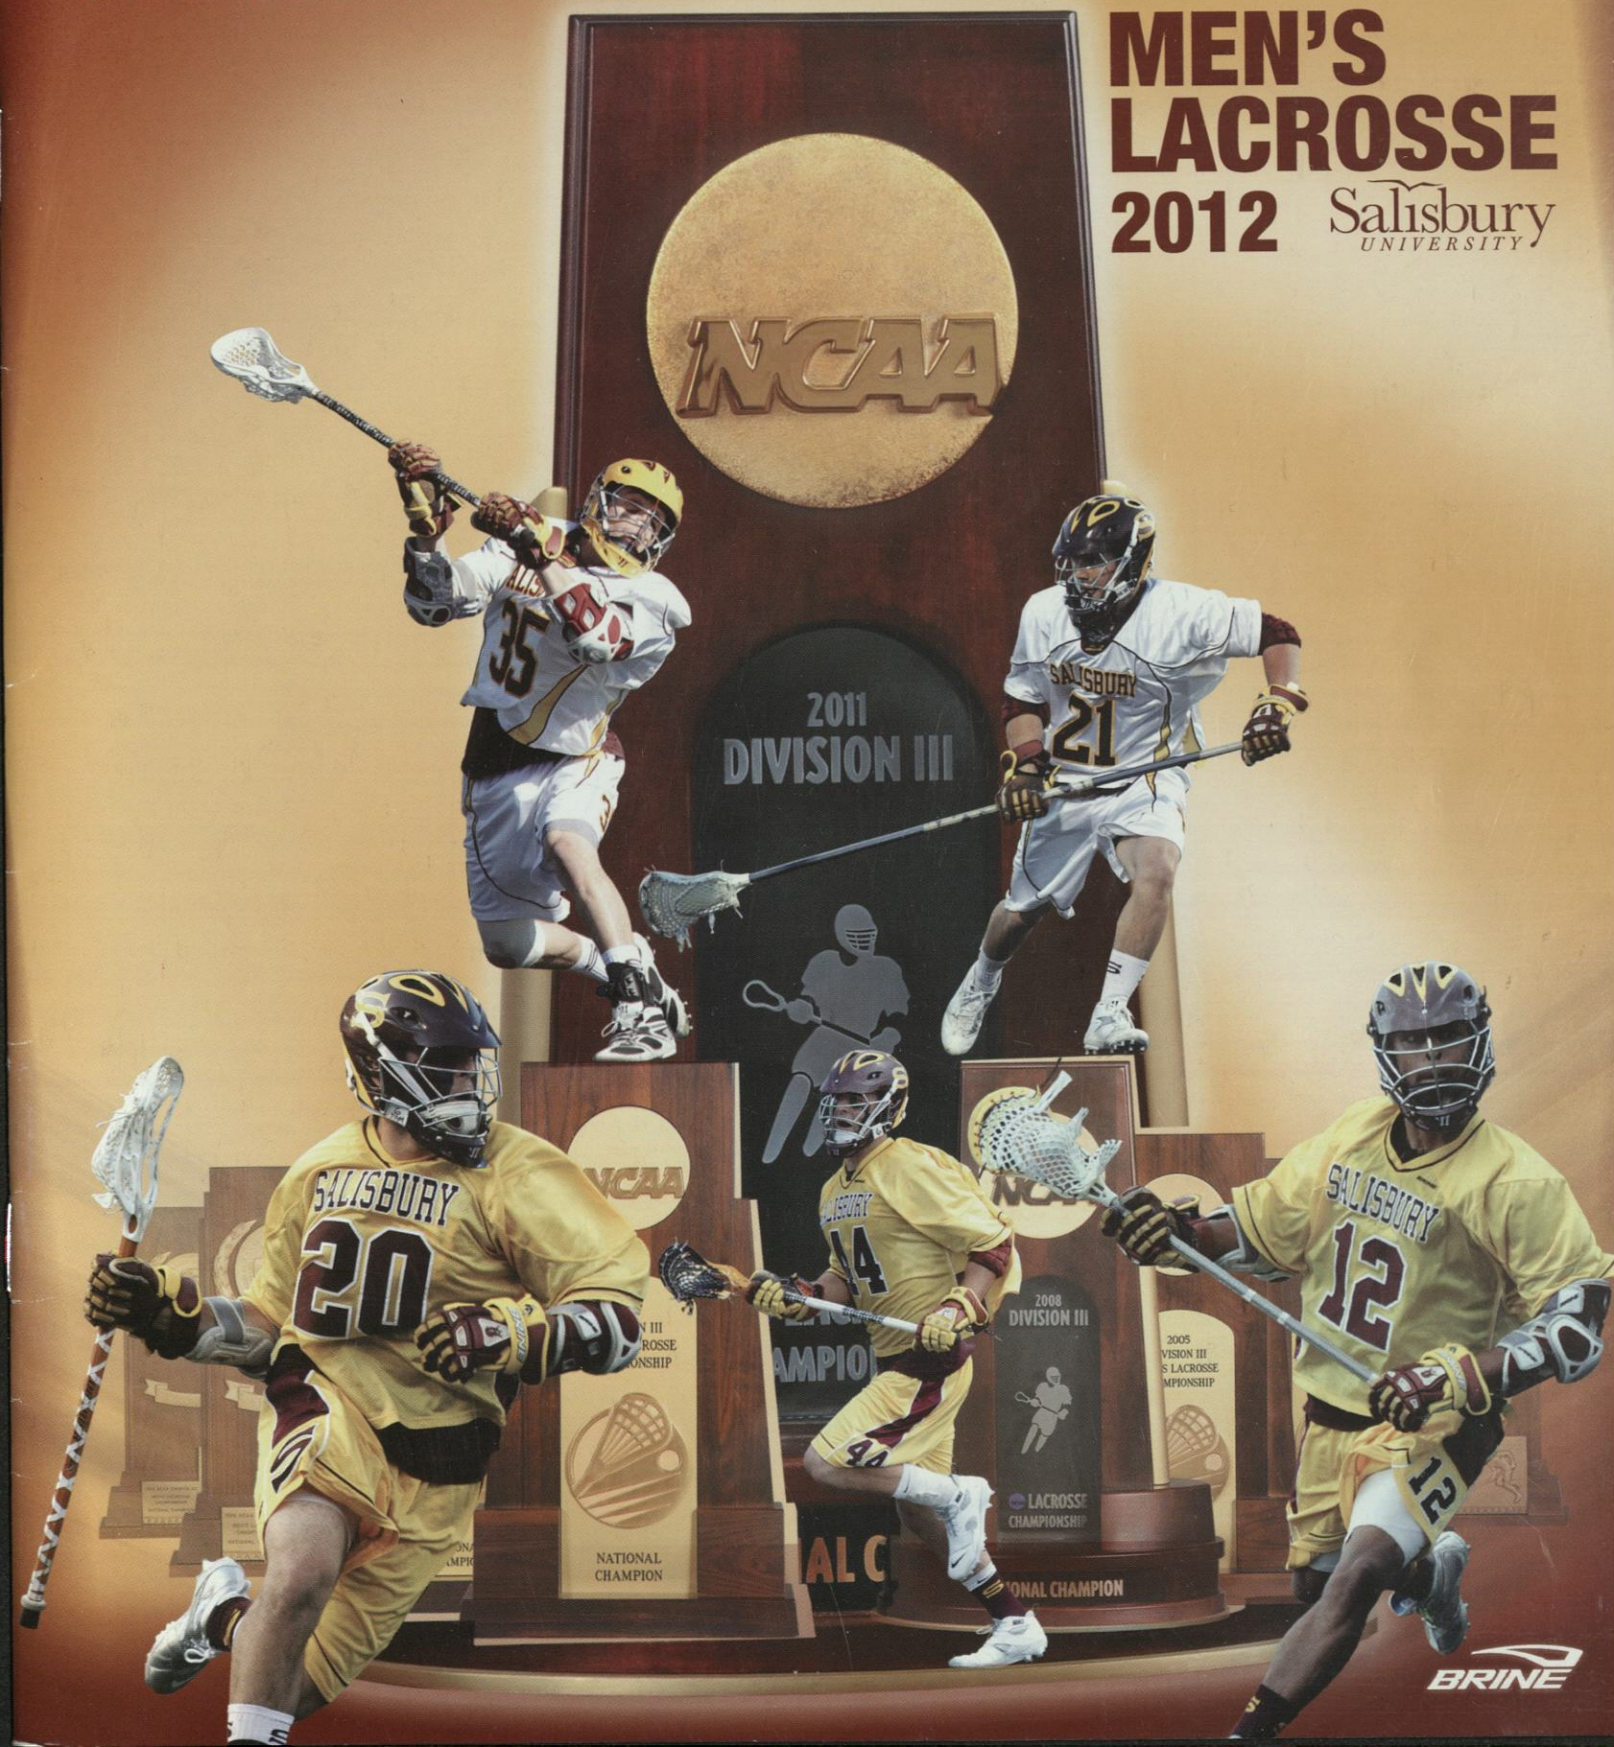
SALISBURY UNIVERSITY

MEN'S LACROSSE 2012

Salisbury UNIVERSITY



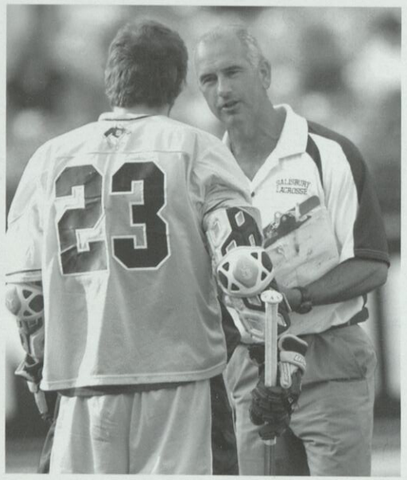
JIM BERKMAN

Coach Jim Berkman is the all-time winningest coach in NCAA men's lacrosse history as he begins his 24th season at the helm for nine-time national champion Salisbury University. Berkman has compiled a 379-37 record at SU through 23 seasons. He broke the NCAA mark for all-time coaching victories in the 2008 NCAA tournament with a win against Ohio Wesleyan University to surpass the former mark of 326 wins held by Army coach Jack Emmer. Berkman's total career record entering the 2012 season is 388-42 (.902 percent winning percentage), as he spent one successful season at Potsdam State.

Salisbury brought home its ninth national championship in 2011 by defeating Tufts University, 19-7, in front of a crowd of 18,086 at M&T Bank Stadium in Baltimore, MD. The team finished the year with a record of 21-1. The Gulls returned to the top of the Capital Athletic Conference, as well, winning the program's 16th CAC championship.

In 2010, Salisbury advanced to the national championship game for the 12th time in program history. The Sea Gulls had eight players garner All-American honors, and sophomore midfielder Sam Bradman was named USILA Division III National Midfielder of the Year.

The Sea Gulls had another successful season in 2009 as they captured the program's 15th consecutive Capital Athletic Conference championship and advanced to their 21st consecutive NCAA tournament. The Sea Gulls entered the season with a 45-game win streak and captured 10-straight victories to open the season to increase the win streak to 55 games, the second longest in NCAA lacrosse history.



Coach Berkman is on pace to break the 400-career wins mark this season as his current win total sits at 388 coming into 2012.

In 2008, the Sea Gulls successfully defended their national championship when they defeated SUNY Cortland 19-13 at Gillette Stadium in Foxborough, MA, before a crowd of 24,317. Salisbury went a perfect 22-0 in 2008, the sixth time in program history the team has gone undefeated.

Recognized and respected throughout the lacrosse community as one of the top coaches in the nation, Berkman guided the Sea Gulls to the most successful men's lacrosse season in NCAA history in 2007. Salisbury went undefeated for the fifth time in Berkman's career en route to the program's seventh national championship. The Sea Gulls set a new NCAA record with 23 wins and broke the national marks for goals (417), assists (271) and points (688). The old goals, assists and points records were held by the 1995 Salisbury team that played six less games.

SU has won at least one USILA Division III national award in each of the past 10 years. In Berkman's reign, he has coached eight national players of the year and 43 national position players of the year. He also has coached 160 All-Americans in 23 seasons. Twice SU had 11 players named All-American in one season (1995, 2007).

The maroon and gold has been in 23 consecutive NCAA tournaments since Berkman's arrival and won national championships in 1994, '95, '99, 2003, '04, '05, '07, '08 and '11. Salisbury has made 13 national championship game appearances under Berkman and advanced to the national semifinals 16 times. Berkman's undefeated seasons at SU were 1994, '95, '04, '05, '07, and '08.

Berkman won his first national championship in 1994 with a win over Hobart College in College Park, MD. Salisbury went 16-0 that season, as the Sea Gulls became the first undefeated national champion in the history of the NCAA Division III championships. The following year, Berkman and the Gulls repeated as national champions as they finished the 1995 season 17-0.

In recognition of his outstanding resume, Berkman has been recognized as the CAC Coach of the Year seven times (1996, 2002, '03, '05, '06, '07, '08, '10) and was the recipient of the Francis "Babe" Kraus award in 1991 and 2008 as the Division III National Coach of the Year.

An All-American midfielder at St. Lawrence (NY) University in 1982, Berkman came to Salisbury after serving as the assistant lacrosse coach and head basketball and junior varsity soccer coach for three seasons at his alma mater. The Watertown, NY, native, starred on the basketball team as well as the lacrosse squad at St. Lawrence, earning MVP honors in basketball as both a junior and senior. He also was selected to play in the prestigious North-South All-Star lacrosse game in 1982. Berkman was inducted into the St. Lawrence Athletics Hall of Fame in 2001.

After graduating from St. Lawrence in 1982, Berkman spent two years at Salisbury University while he earned his master's degree. He served as the Gulls' assistant lacrosse coach during those two seasons as SU compiled a 23-7 record. Following one season at Potsdam State (1985), where Berkman coached the lacrosse squad to a school-record nine wins, he returned to St. Lawrence from 1985-88. As head basketball coach, Berkman directed his 1987-88 St. Lawrence team to the ICAC league championship. Berkman also guided the SU women's soccer program for seven seasons (1994-2000) and posted an overall 102-28-5 (.774) record and two CAC championships.

Berkman currently resides in Salisbury, MD, with his wife Jennifer, who is the director of SU Student Health Services. Their son Kylor was a four-year member of SU's men's lacrosse team, and daughter Keli won a national championship with the SU women's lacrosse team in 2010.

Seize the Moment:
Anticipation builds as 2012 Sea Gulls look to get back on top

Coming off the 2011 national championship victory, it is back to business as usual for the 2012 Salisbury University men's lacrosse team. The program has now won an astounding nine national championships, but that does not change the goal for this season: compete for Salisbury's 10th. The team will also be looking for its 17th Capital Athletic Conference championship. The Gulls have already started out on the right foot as Salisbury has been ranked No. 1 in the Face-Off Yearbook's 2012 preseason rankings.

"Like any season here, the goal is always to win the conference and to compete for a national championship," said Salisbury Head Coach Jim Berkman, the all-time winningest coach in NCAA men's lacrosse history.

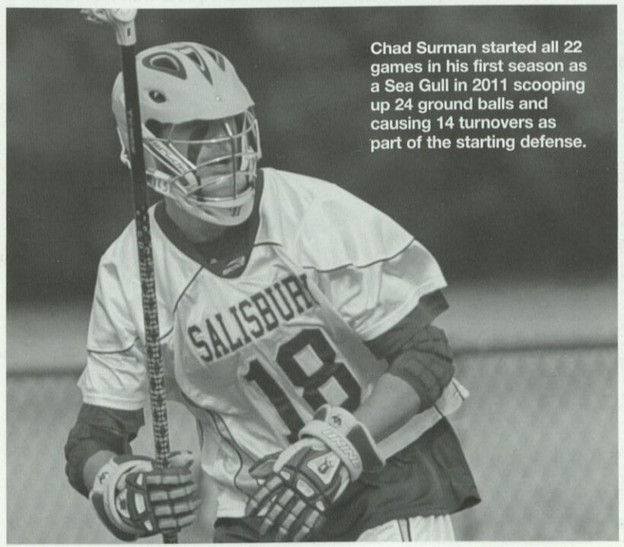
The goal may stay the same, but with the high quality of the returning players, the team has no reason to strive for anything but to get back to No. 1. In addition to the returning players, Salisbury has added even more talent to give the team additional depth and skill. Berkman sees both of those elements in this year's Sea Gulls and is high on the team he has in front of him.

"We like the depth that we have on this year's team, and we like the skill level," Berkman said. "This might be the most depth we've had on offense in a long time or, at least, in the past four years … this team can be really special if everyone really pushes hard and works hard in the offseason."

ATTACK

This season, the Sea Gulls are returning all three of their starting attackmen from last year. Seniors Matt Cannone, Erik Krum and Tony Mendes combined for 149 goals and 72 assists to lead Salisbury's offensive attack in 2011. Krum and Cannone will serve as two of the team captains in 2012.

Cannone had his second straight season with 80 or more points as he led the team with 88 (49 goals and 39 assists) last season. He continued to show that he is one of the Sea Gulls' top offensive threats. The Bayport, NY, product has been on the starting attack line since his freshman season and has started 62 out of 65 career games. He looks to continue to be that constant presence on the front line in his senior season for Salisbury.



Chad Surman started all 22 games in his first season as a Sea Gull in 2011 scooping up 24 ground balls and causing 14 turnovers as part of the starting defense.

Krum had a career year in 2011 after coming back from an injury that caused him to miss the entire 2010 season. He led the trio of Salisbury attackmen in goals with 52, which was also good for second on the team.

In his first season wearing the maroon and gold, Mendes fit in perfectly with the Sea Gulls attack as both a scorer and a playmaker. He finished the season with 48 goals and 17 assists. With 2011 under his belt, his growing chemistry with Cannone and Krum on the front line will make Salisbury's attack even more lethal.

Joining the Sea Gulls this season on the attack is sophomore Rhett DePol. DePol has been away from the game for a couple of years, but he has not missed a beat with the Gulls. Berkman is impressed with what he has seen from DePol: "He played extremely well with Cannone and Krum this fall … he played with those two like he had been playing with them his whole life."

With his skills and the way he meshed with the returning players, Berkman sees DePol challenging for time on the first attack line this season.

Returning this season is senior Kyle Quist and junior Matt Pierotti, who will join DePol on the second line. Pierotti is coming back after a medical redshirt last season. Quist is entering his fourth season as a Sea Gull and is coming off a solid 2011 campaign with 16 goals and 10 assists, along with one CAC Offensive Player of the Week honor.

MIDFIELD

A mix of returning players and new players will control the Salisbury midfield this season. The line will be led by two-time team captain and last year's national championship game's Most Outstanding Player Sam Bradman. Bradman led the team with seven goals and one assist in that game. Last season, Bradman was first on the team with 55 goals and was second on the team with 78 points. This is his second season as one of the team captains, and he is looking to help push the team back to where it finished last year, along with the other veteran leaders of the team.

Junior Ryan Clarke returns this season after coming on strong at the end of last season for the Gulls' title run. Clarke, who played in all 22 games, worked his way into the starting lineup for the final 11 games last season after an injury to Bradman. He finished the season with 10 goals and 12 assists, scoring six of the goals and seven of the assists in his starts. This season, he will play alongside Bradman on the team's first midfield line.

Senior Cory Nowak, one of the most versatile players on the team who can play midfield or short-stick defensive midfielder, will begin the season on the first line with Bradman and Clarke. Nowak played in all 22 games last season, registering seven goals and three assists.

Senior Jeff McGuire will head up the second line this season, looking to expand on a solid 2011 season in which over 80 percent of his shots were on goal as he scored 13 times. Joining McGuire on the opening day second line will be senior Kyle Gallagher and sophomore Sean Fitzgerald.

With an abundance of depth in the midfield sophomore Greg Korvin, a transfer from UMBC, junior Eric Kluge, who is transferring from Eastern Connecticut State University, and senior Lantz Carter will all be battling for playing time on the second line.

FACEOFFS

Junior Tyler Granelli, the team's top faceoff player from last season, will be back at the X for the Gulls. Granelli won 65 percent of his faceoffs for the Gulls. He will be backed up by senior Justin Radebaugh, who is also returning. Radebaugh was successful in 59 percent of his faceoffs in 2011, and he gives the Gulls two strong faceoff men.

Berkman expects the two players to give Salisbury the edge in possessions from the start. He said, "Hopefully, this will be one of our strengths that is going to gain us a lot of possessions this year because those kids are older and a year better than they were last year, and they were awful dominant last year."

DEFENSE

The Sea Gull defense is stacking up to be another deep position for the team. Senior Andrew Sellers, one of last year's long-stick midfielders, will be moving back to close defense this season, the position that he held in his first season as a Gull in 2010. Sellers caused 22 turnovers and picked up 32 ground balls last season, an improvement over 2010, and he looks to continue that success in 2011.

Senior Chad Surman is the lone starter from last season on the close defense returning from 2011. Along with Sellers, Surman will be a defensive anchor and veteran leader for the team this year. Last season, he finished with 14 caused turnovers and 24 ground balls.

The close defense has multiple players who have shown that they have the ability to play on the first line and should see good playing time during the season. The team is returning sophomores Danny Sherr and Zeke Smith, who both have worked hard in the offseason to get bigger and better. The team adds another athletic big body in freshman Knute Kraus. Kraus is in the mix to get a good chunk of time on the field.

Returning to the long-stick midfield position is senior Evan Hockel, another one of the team captains for 2012. Hockel will see time as both a long-stick defensive midfielder and as a wing on faceoffs. Over the past three seasons, Hockel has picked up 114 ground balls, including 38 from last season, and he also tallied a goal in 2011.

Hockel is joined by junior Brett Baer, who is coming back completely healthy after being injured going into last season. Baer played in 16 games and picked up 21 ground balls with six caused turnovers. The Gulls add freshman Austin Kemp, who will give some depth to the long-stick midfield position.

In the short-stick defensive midfield, the Gulls find even more depth. The team returns seniors Dean Rossi, the fifth 2012 team captain, and Parker Dickerson. Both players saw significant minutes last season and look for much of the same this year.

The newest addition to the Sea Gull defensive midfield will be freshman Adam Stork, who is pushing for minutes in 2012 as the third defensive midfielder.

GOALIE

There will be some new faces in the cage for the Sea Gulls this season with sophomore Alex Taylor coming out of the fall as the starting goalkeeper. Taylor saw limited action last season as he was behind two senior keepers, but in 2011, he played over 100 minutes and made 23 saves. Coming into 2012, Berkman sees Taylor as the Sea Gulls' best keeper. "Alex is a very athletic goalie … if he can play like he did in the last week in fall ball, we're not going to miss a beat in the cage," Berkman said.

Second in line for the position is junior Mitch Meredith. Meredith has impressed the coaches by his play in the fall, as well. The Gulls will look to freshmen Dan Feeney and Connor Anderson to add depth to the position, with Feeney opening the year as No. 3 on the depth chart.

SCHEDULE

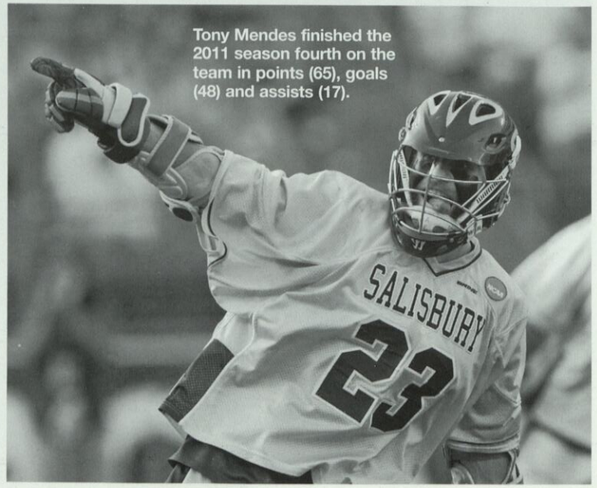
The 2012 schedule puts the Sea Gulls up against four teams that made it to last season's NCAA tournament, including Roanoke College, the team that SU beat in the NCAA semifinals. The schedule also contains four teams that are ranked in the Face-Off Yearbooks rankings: No. 4 Roanoke, No. 7 Stevenson University, No. 8 Lynchburg College and No. 16 Gettysburg College.

Salisbury starts off on the road on February 12 visiting Greensboro College before returning home for three straight games. The team's first game at Sea Gull Stadium is on February 18 when the Gulls host Lynchburg. Roanoke comes to town next to take on the Sea Gulls for a rematch from last year's NCAA tournament. The Gulls round out the month of February with a home game against McDaniel College.

To start March, Salisbury is right back to another opponent that was in the NCAA tournament as it travels to Gettysburg. With games against Lynchburg, Roanoke and Gettysburg right off the bat, the Gulls have good competition to begin the season. "We play three great games right away to start the season to find out where we are at," Berkman said.

The Sea Gulls return home again after Gettysburg to host Ursinus College before going on the road for three games against Ohio Wesleyan University, another NCAA tournament participant, Washington and Lee University before getting into the Capital Athletic Conference play, highlighted by the Sea Gulls' final regular-season CAC meeting with Stevenson University on April 14.

The Gulls wrap up the 2012 regular season at home with their annual War on the Shore contest with Washington (MD) College on April 21. The Sea Gulls have defeated the Shoremen to bring home the Charles B. Clark Cup for nine straight years since 2003. The day after, on April 22, the CAC tournament starts with first-round action. The tournament runs until April 28. Following that, the NCAA tournament is set to start on May 9.



Tony Mendes finished the 2011 season fourth on the team in points (65), goals (48) and assists (17).
